They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

THE ABOLITION OF PASSES.

All railroad passes are doomed after January 1. This means that even the trunk lines will abolish the exchange system by which one railroad company permitted the officials of another company to travel over its lines free of charge.

After January 1 the southern railroads will also fall into line and the little pasteboard will not be printed and distributed as heretofore. The southern roads may continue to maintain an exchange list.

The Southern Railway Company will lead in relegating the pass system to the rear in Southern territory. It is also stated that the western railroads, which did not fall into line this year in abolishing passes, will adopt the policy of "no passes" on January 1.

Railroad managers have come to the conclusion that the exceptions under the no-pass clause of the law would enable them, if they chose, to vastly extend the present practice. One railroad manager says the pass clause makes "a favored class out of 84,000,000 of the 85,000,000 inhabitants of the United States," inasmuch as that proportion of the people in a pinch might be crowded in under the various exceptions as follows:

Officers of the railroads and their families, agents of the railroads and their families, employes of the railroads and their families, attorneys of the railroads and their families, physicians and surgeons in the employ of the roads and their families, female nurses who served in the civil war, ministers of religion and their families, inmates of hospitals and eleemosynary and charitable institutions, destitute and homeless persons transported by charitable societies and their necessary agents employed in such transportation, inmates of the national homes or State homes for disabled volunteer soldiers for former Confederate soldiers or former Union soldiers or sailors. Inmates of soldiers and sailors' homes, including not only those who ever entered, but those who "would be alone to enter," if they felt so disposed, and those on their way to friends after being discharged from the homes. Persons who are either traveling with some live stock or going to travel with some if they can get the job. Laborers who are going from one place to another, where they think they can get an increase in wages. The Culberson amendment would not have the slightest effect upon the railroads if they chose to issue free transportation. The amendment says that the railroads "may" issue passes in certain cases. Fortunately for the stockholders of the company the amendment does not say that passes "must" be issued.

Hope really wished to realize the wide scope of the exceptions, all he has to do is to imagine what kind of a rush would be made to the railroads for free transportation if the railroads were compelled to issue, instead of merely being given permission to issue, free transportation, according to the Culberson amendment.

It would be a very slow person, indeed if he wanted to travel, who could not show that he was a member of some office, employe, attorney, physician of the railroad, or that he was a laborer who wished to better his condition by going elsewhere, or a nurse, or, to say the least, that he was destitute.

It was agreed that the amendment, which was designed to limit the amount of free passes, would practically not limit them at all, because the railroads do not now issue passes to millions of persons who would be entitled under the Culberson amendment to them.

It will cost the national government about $1,000,000 annually to be virtuous on the subject of railroad passes. As soon as the rate bill passed by the Senate went into effect the passes given to government employes were withdrawn.

LINES

(Dedicated to the Mary Custis Lee Chapter)

Where shall she rest whom all delight to praise?
Whose weary pilgrimage at last is o'er,
And North and South united voices raise
To celebrate a life both strong and pure.
And faithful as a woman's life should be
Whom Davis loved with tried fidelity;
Where shall she rest? Why 'mongst the brave and true,
In Hollywood, the home of broken hearts;
Near to the cairn of boulders rough and gray,
Like to the men who sternly did their parts;
Nor flinched beneath the storm of shot and shell,
That seemed to vomit from the mouth of hell.
There shall she rest with the heroic dead,
And springtime blossoms on her grave be shed.

WINE OF CARDUI

Will Lose 10,000,000 Francs a Year.

The relations between the Pope and France are likely to cost the church in France the loss of 10,000,000 francs a year from one single source. This is the fund for perpetual masses, which brings in nearly $2,500,000 a year, and has done so for over 100 years. Catholics, on dying, have left sums to be invested, the interest to be devoted to saying masses in perpetuity. These invested funds amounted to over 200,000,000 francs, or over $40,000,000. On the 11th of next month, if no public worship associations have been formed under the church and State separate law, to whom the money can be transferred in trust, it will all come back into the hands of the government. As it is extremely unlikely that Clemenceau's or any other French government will give orders for masses to be said, the money will lie in sequestration, and the church will have deprived itself of a revenue of 10,000,000 francs per annum.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING. NOV. 22, 1906.

AN EFFORT will be made by the Philadelphia Board of Education to drive all children under 11 years of age from the streets at night. At a meeting of the Elementary Schools Committee yesterday afternoon Samuel McCune Lindsay urged that at the next meeting of the board a resolution be adopted asking Council to pass an ordinance prohibiting children under 11 years of age from appearing in the streets after nightfall unaccompanied by their parents. It has always been a source of regret that some parents are so remiss as to allow their children to prowl the streets until a late hour at night. That they learn nothing good by their nocturnal rambles is sadly apparent. An object lesson was afforded at the Opera House in this city last night when a number of unkempt and ill-mannered urchins appeared there and annoyed both the speakers and the audience. The meeting was in the interest of education and to accelerate the movement toward inaugurating high schools in the State as the last stepping stone to the University of Virginia, but the logic of the speakers fell upon the desert air when it reached the youngsters in the gallery. The rudeness of the youths was doubtless the natural outcome of education acquired on Hallowe'en night and by being allowed to run the streets after dark.

THE FIRST attempt to exclude Chinese from landing in Great Britain is now occupying the attention of the British Immigration Board. Thirty-two Chinamen from Hong Kong who arrived at Gravesend Monday, on their way to Liverpool, where they were to work in laundries, were not permitted to land, the immigration officers basing their refusal on the Chinamen's lack of means to support themselves. The case was appealed to the Immigration Board, and after consideration decision was postponed, the chairman of the board pointing out that this was the first case of the kind under the law and one of great importance. The Chinaman is not only persona non grata in the United States, but is a football in other countries. England was the refuge of runaway southern negroes half a century ago. Most of the abolition literature of that day emanated in that country. It is hard to understand why they now object to the Chinaman after their professed love for the negro.

AT A meeting of the maritime section of the Navy League held in New York yesterday afternoon, William McAdoo, former Secretary of the Navy and police commissioner, said that the United States must take precautions against Japanese designs on the Philippines. Mr. McAdoo advocated the enlargement of the navy, and gave his reasons. While the growth of the United States requires a formidable navy, it may be remarked that Mr. McAdoo's ruse is ancient and has been often used to induce the United States to spend money on ships. There is no likelihood of Japan giving this country any trouble, and many reasons could be given to show that it will ever be to the interests of the Mikado to remain on friendly relations with the United States.

INTEREST IS widespread throughout the State in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad presidency situation, and the people are upholding Governor Swanson in his fight for the interests of the State. If the Governor shall fail to accomplish the protection of the State's interests through the plans he now has on foot, it is said he will convene the Legislature in extra session, to take whatever steps may seem necessary in the matter. The calling of an extra session of the Legislature is a serious and an expensive matter, and it is hoped that such a step may be avoided but the Pennsylvania Railroad Company should be held in check in Virginia even if the Legislature and the State militia are required to do for the purpose.

From Washington.

Washington, Nov. 22.

The Navy Department has received a dispatch announcing the departure of the President from Ponce, Porto Rico, at 9 o'clock this morning, on board the battleship Louisiana and accompanied by the two cruiser convoys the Washington and Tennessee. If the squadron makes as good time coming across the Atlantic as it did going down to Cuba, the President is expected to arrive at the Virginia Capes Monday evening.

The sensational Bassett divorce case was begun before Judge Gould in Equity Court this morning. It involves Mrs. Fanny Rice Bassett, daughter of former Senator Rice, of Arkansas, Chas. C. Bassett, field assistant in the Geological Survey, and E. Lawrence Hunt, pastor of the Noble Street Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn. The grounds upon which application for divorce was filed by Mrs. Bassett is infidelity. The testimony which was taken before an examiner in chancery shows the birth of a child in Johns Hopkins Hospital in 1904 while Mr. Bassett was away on field duty. It is charged that Hunt and Mrs. Bassett visited many pleasure resorts in the summer of 1904 traveling as brother and sister. Testimony of servants employed in the Bassett apartments in Washington while Hunt was a minister in the Washington Heights Church shows that Hunt was a frequent visitor during the absence of Mr. Bassett. A letter offered in evidence from Hunt states that as soon as the divorce is procured it is his intention to marry Mrs. Bassett.

That complaint has been made to England in regard to the action of Newfoundland officials in opposing the enlisting of local fishermen on American fishing boats, was admitted today by Foreign Office Secretary Grey. The practical workings of the agreement, he insisted, have not been disturbed.

The dead body of John Henry Strickhart was found hanging to a rope at his room in Washington yesterday. He was an air-brake inspector in the employ of the B. & O. railway. No one excepting Lloyd Moxley, knows the motive for the act and he says he will never tell.

Death of Bishop Tigert.

A chicken bone, which lodged in his throat just below the tonsils, ended the life in Tulsa, I. T., yesterday of Bishop John James Tigert, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, whose home was in Louisville, Ky. He was ill for 10 days.

Bishop Tigert was taken ill while attending a church conference at Atoka, I. T., but disregarded the advice of his physician to rest. He went to Tulsa, intending to open the conference at Tulsa on the 14th, but was compelled to take to his bed. The lodgment of the bone in his throat caused inflammation and resulted in blood poisoning. The deceased was born in Louisville, Ky., November 25, 1856. Dr. Tigert was the author of a number of works on church ethics, theology and denominational history and the editor of several others of importance.

Benning.

The largest crowd of the meeting was at the Benning track yesterday. The Chevy Chase Steeplechase, with gentlemen riders, and the Vestal Stakes were the features. Oleroso, with C. H. Smith, of Virginia, up, captured the steeplechase, beating the favorite, Follow On, ridden by Dion Kerr, of Warrenton, Va., which won the race from Oleroso Saturday. The race brought out a large attendance from Maryland and Virginia. Nemesis, at 5 to 2, was home first in the Vestal, with Winifred A., the longest-priced horse, second, and Single Shot, the favorite, at even money, third. Woolwick, the second choice in the fourth race, broke down while turning into the stretch and fell out, the race going to Firebrand, the favorite.

The Eastern Hospital.

The general hospital board of the State yesterday removed Dr. L. S. Foster, superintendent of the Eastern State Hospital for the Insane, at Williamsburg, and Drs. Henderson and Southhall, first and second physicians at the institution, all of the removals to take effect January 1. Dr. O. C. Brunk, of the University of Virginia Medical School, was elected superintendent to succeed Dr. Foster, and the selection of two assistant physicians, one of whom is to be a woman, was left to the local board.

This action is a victory for the two minority members of the legislative investigating committee, in a report of which charges of incompetency and neglect were made.

The committee was appointed by the legislature at the beginning of the year, following charges preferred when the Senate was called upon to ratify a nomination by the governor to the hospital board.

State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education adjourned yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock after having held two sessions. All the members, including the Governor, were present.

It was decided to make some changes in the five circuits which are now supervised by the State examiners. Among the changes were the following: Spottsylvania and Stafford counties were transferred from the First to the Fifth Circuit; Goochland and Powhatan counties from the Fifth to the First.

It is explained that changes in the five circuits were made entirely for geographical reasons.

A dispatch received at Cherbourg, France, reports that the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which left Southampton and Cherbourg yesterday for New York, has been in collision with the Royal Mail steamer Orinoco. Five members of the crew of the Orinoco are missing, and are supposed to have been drowned. The Orinoco left Southampton yesterday for West Indian ports and New York.

"It was not the cry of a man or a boy. It was a cry of some one in pain, the cry of some one in peril. And it was a woman's cry. I could not be mistaken." Mrs. Marjory Carey, of East Orange, N. J., thus testified yesterday afternoon at the trial at Herkimer, N. Y., of Chester E. Gillette for the murder of Grace Brown, his cast-off sweetheart. She was describing a cry that rang across the waters of Big Moose Lake in the dusk of the evening of July 11 last. She will always believe that it was Grace Brown's death cry. The prosecution charges that it was the last life utterance of the forsaken little factory girl.

The President in all his speeches dwelt on the affection he held for the people of Porto Rico, and assured them that he would use every effort to secure citizenship for them, declaring that his efforts would be unceasing to help them along the path of true self-government. Cheering crowds greeted him at every town, and his reception at Ponce and San Juan was particularly enthusiastic.

Caruso's Side of the Story.

Five cases of improper conduct toward women were charged by Policeman Cain, of New York against Enrico Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera House tenor, when the latter was arraigned for a hearing yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Baker in the Yorkville Police Court, New York. All of these cases, it was alleged, occurred before the eyes of the policeman in the monkey-house of the Central Park Zoo on November 16, the day on which Caruso was arrested on a charge of annoying Mrs. Hannah K. Graham, who gave her address as 1756 Bathgate avenue, the Bronx. The case was continued until today. The impression produced in the court by the evidence and developments yesterday was that the charge against the tenor will be dismissed.

Mrs. Graham failed to appear at yesterday's hearing, and Policeman Cain was obliged to admit that, so far as he knows now, there may not be any woman of that name in existence. The complainant policeman, however, did produce a witness in the person of Jeremiah McCarthy, an employe at the American League baseball grounds, who corroborated the police testimony in regard to three of the incidents which occurred in the monkey house on November 16.

Caruso himself was on the witness stand for three-quarters of an hour. He was questioned through an interpreter, and, aside from being a little nervous, he made a good impression. He declared that he was not in the monkey house more than five or six minutes; that the woman who called herself Mrs. Graham had smiled at him in a way that made her intention plain, but that he ignored her and did not see her again until after he had been arrested by Cain and led before the sergeant in the Arsenal. He declared that the policeman took him into custody outside the monkey-house, and that he did not know what he had been arrested for.

Mrs. Davis's Letter.

The Daughters of the Confederacy met in Lee Camp Hall in Richmond yesterday for the purpose of receiving the report of Mrs. N. V. Randolph on the Gulfport (Miss.), convention. Mrs. Randolph said, in speaking of the convention, that Jefferson Davis and Mrs. Davis were the central ideas of the entire occasion. Mrs. Randolph said the letter of Mrs. Davis was harsh in its condemnation of Mississippi, and one of the things that she said in her letter was that she "had no place to live." It suggested that Mrs. Davis might not have been in her sound mind when writing the letter. Mrs. Randolph declared it to be her belief that Mrs. Davis's mind was not only sound then, but up to the very time of her death. She says she believes Mrs. Davis intended that the letter be made public. Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, who was present, said that he chanced to be in Mississippi at the time the letter was written and was present at a dinner party given in honor of Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Kimbrough, the lady whose husband kept the letter for Mrs. Davis, showed Mrs. Davis a lot of clippings from different newspapers, criticising her for not living in the South. Mrs. Davis was very much excited over the matter. She wrote a letter in reply, which she intrusted to Judge Kimbrough, to be read after her death.

Jumped from Burning Building.

One woman was killed, a man so seriously injured that he cannot live and several others badly hurt yesterday afternoon at a fire in a six-story factory at 313-316 east Seventy-fifth street, New York. Another man is missing, and it is feared he perished in the flames.

The building is occupied as a shirt-waist factory and for the manufacture of celluloid articles. About 300 women and girls are employed there and a number of them jumped from the windows in their fright.

The fire started with an explosion in the Bouffard factory. The flames spread rapidly and Mrs. Bouffard, her husband and John Magork all leaped from the window at once. Mrs. Bouffard struck the ground first and the two others fell on top of her. She was instantly killed and her husband so badly injured that he will die. Magork suffered only a broken arm.

In the other factories of the building several of the women and girls on the lower floors leaped from the windows and suffered shocks and slight bruises.

Suicide.

Easton, Pa., Nov. 22.—Harrison Bell, a retired and well-known farmer, 65 years old, of Moore township, committed suicide Tuesday night by hanging himself in the garret at the residence of his son in-law, Samaritan Dech. Bell chose as a place to end his life the same spot, even to the rafter, where his daughter, Mrs. Dech, hanged herself on Christmas Day two years ago. Mrs. Bell died about six years ago, and since then Bell was despondent and melancholy.

Plan to Kill Gillette Frustrated.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Posing as drunks and asking for a place to sleep, two woodmen made an attempt to gain an entrance into Herkimer county jail early today, but were thrown out by William Richards, son of the sheriff, who divined that the plan of the men was to attack Chester E. Gillette and kill him in his cell. When William told his father what had happened he ordered a guard to watch at Gillette's door until the time to go to court.

William said that he had noticed the two men hanging around the jail yard all afternoon.

"I had told the men that Gillette was confined in the jail" said young Richard and the big men replied, significantly: 'I would just like to sleep under the same roof for one night with Chester Gillette.' I declined the permission and they turned and went out in the jail yard, where, under the electric light, I could see them talking excitedly."

Just after midnight the jail bell rung again, and young Richards opening the door discovered the two men. They pleaded for a place to sleep. Richards saw they were perfectly sober and that the intoxication when they first called was shammed. Richards called the prison cook, who was in the jail office, and the men were thrown down the steps into the yard. They came back a third time, but, seeing several deputy sheriffs, they turned and disappeared.

The defense will call Dwight Spurry, a contractor at Old Forge, as one of its chief witnesses. He will testify that he carried the drowned body of Grace Brown over a rocky road from the Glenmore Hotel to Big Moose station in a wagon without springs. The defense will claim that the girl's skull was fractured during the jolting ride. This line of defense was learned today. The State will endeavor to meet this contention by the testimony of five physicians who performed the autopsy. They will testify that the girl's skull was fractured and there was blood congestion at the base of the fracture. There will be medical testimony to show that when the skull of a corpse is fractured, no blood clot forms.

John Kerwin, a steamboat man, who brought the body of Grace Brown to the surface of the water, said today: "I have recovered many drowned bodies, but never have I seen the face of a drowned person so drawn in terror and horror as the face of Grace Brown. Drowned persons have pleasant faces. Terror was written in deep lines on the face of that dear girl so plain, so strong, that I never can forget it."

Within twenty four hours after the waters of Big Moose Lake had closed over the body of his alleged victim, Chester Gillette on trial for killing Grace Brown, was amusing himself by taking pictures on Seventh Lake and enjoying the scenery of the Adirondack region unconcerned. It was developed today that Gillette went to a hotel on Seventh Lake the day after the tragedy to meet two girls with whom he made an engagement on the train while taking Grace Brown to Big Moose Lake from her home in South Otselic.

A minister who was at the hotel says: "That evening on our return to the hotel the party sat on the porch with Gillette and sang songs. Later, Gillette went to his room and on passing through the hotel office I heard Gillette say to two men 'Did you hear of the terrible tragedy of Big Moose Lake?' One of the men asked what it was and Gillette replied that a young girl was drowned."

When Gillette made this inquiry on July 13, Grace Brown's body had been found and the officers were looking for "Carl Graham" the name Gillette used when registereing at the Glenmore Hotel The news of the tragedy had not reached Arrowhead.

Killed in Collision of Steamers.

Cherbourg, Nov. 22.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse put back into port today, following her collision with the royal mail steamer Orinoco. The Kaiser Wilhelm is badly damaged and will require extensive repairs.

Passengers on the Kaiser will be transferred to the La Lorraine and the St. Paul, which sail on Saturday. It is now feared that the list of fatalities which resulted from the crash of the steamers may be greater than first supposed. Although small boats patrolled the waters for several hours, no trace was found of the five men missing from the crew of the Orinoco and who are supposed to have been knocked overboard and drowned.

Four members of the crew of the Kaiser Wilhelm are reported dead, and of the twelve injured, at least two are expected to die.

Owing to the confusion which followed the accident no count has been made, but it is believed that some of the passengers of the Kaiser Wilhelm, supposedly from the steerage, were knocked overboard.

A wireless dispatch received here today says that both vessels were seriously damaged above their water lines.

Twelve steerage passengers are said to have been killed on the Kaiser. Officers of the North German Lloyd line deny this, saying four steerage passengers were killed and eight hurt.

A hole ten feet long is torn in the Kaiser's bows. Four persons are reported injured on the Orinoco. She is expected to continue her voyage to the Antilles.

New York Nov. 22—Gustave Schwab, agent for the North German Lloyd line here, said today: "The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse had about 260 first class, 200 second, and 700 steerage passengers. The ship is the third largest in our fleet." She is a twin-screw vessel of about 15,000 tons. She is 626 feet long. She is commanded by Captain Englehart.

A. C. Farmer is master of the Orinoco. She left Southampton yesterday for West Indian ports, and thence to New York. She is 4,581 tons, and 409 feet long.

Further investigation shows that 13 persons were killed by the collision.

Lives Endangered by an Eel.

New York, Nov. 22.—A three-foot eel came within an ace of causing the death in the most horrible manner imaginable of Captain Roach and four other firemen fighting a serious tenement house blaze today. The men had taken a position on a fire escape on the fifth floor. The flames spread and cut off their escape, but they felt safe, as they were keeping the flames back with a stream of water. Suddenly the water was cut off. The flames swept forward. A cry of terror went up from the trapped men, who were about to be broiled, with the fire escape as a gridiron. An extension ladder was run up and they were rescued. An examination to find the reason for the cutting off of the water disclosed the eel lodged in one section of the hose. The blaze was one of six fires started in the same district today, three of which were in the same block. All of the fires appeared to have been started in the same way by dropping a burning ball of oiled waste down a dumb-waiter shaft.

The Charge Against Caruso.

New York, Nov. 22.—It is a vaudeville star that Enrico Caruso, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, can make a claim today to renown, for the hearing yesterday before Magistrate Baker in the Yorkville police court on charge of annoying women in the Central Park monkey house, strongly resembled a music hall performance. Caruso was in the lime light from the time the curtain went up until adjournment although he had to share honors with Policeman Caine, who arrested him. From the stories of witnesses there is practically as much doubt as to Caruso's guilt as there has been in the newspaper trials of the case. Absolutely contradictory stories were told. Caine, Captain Stephenson and Sergeant McGirr of the Central Park station were the police witnesses. Caruso contented himself with a denial of everything charged against him. Caruso will probably have another inning late this afternoon.

President Roosevelt's Oration.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt was accorded an ovation surpassing anything ever seen in Porto Rico at the reception today in his honor, at the gubernatorial mansion.

Both in point of numbers of the guests and the enthusiasm manifested, the reception was a record breaker. Many persons were unable to reach the President to shake his hand.

An incident was the meeting of President Roosevelt and E. G. Morton who fought by his side at Santiago de Cuba and was one of the first five to ascend the hill.

President Roosevelt's return to the United States will be delayed somewhat. The roughness of the sea outside San Juan makes it impossible for him to board the Louisiana there and he will return to Ponce to embark.

Judge Sustained "Unwritten Law."

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 22.—William T. Henderson, who on Tuesday night shot Nathaniel Hutchison, a street car conductor, four times, and who came within an inch of causing his death, was fined $20 and costs this morning, or about $5 a piece for each bullet. Hutchison had boasted about being intimate with Henderson's wife, and was the cause of Henderson separating from her. Judge Cochrane has no time for home breakers, and in passing sentence upon Henderson showed his contempt for the injured man. Henderson pleaded the "unwritten law," and Judge Cochrane sustained his contention.

Mr. Chamberlain a Physical Wreck.

London, Nov. 22.—Joseph Chamberlain is a wreck and his condition is hopeless, according to the weekly review, John Bull. The paper has this to say: "Mr. Chamberlain is a nerveless, voiceless, and almost sightless paralytic. His original seizure occurred four months ago. He is now wheeled twice a week with the utmost difficulty to his orchid house." This statement has created a great sensation as Mr. Chamberlain's relatives have endeavored to keep his condition a secret.

Langdon, a wealthy New York broker, disappeared from the family home at Fishkill last evening, and sixty dollars and some valuable jewelry also are missing. Mrs. Langdon is almost prostrated by anxiety and fear.

Fined $18,000.

New York, Nov. 22.—A fine of $18,000 was today assessed against the New York Central Railroad by Judge Holt in the federal court following the finding of the road guilty on another count of the indictment charging violation of the Elkins act, by the granting of rebates to the sugar trust. Motions for a new trial and postponement of sentence were overruled. The sentence of the trust which has been found guilty of accepting rebates will be fixed next Tuesday.

Captain Whipped Entire Crew.

The executive board of the Virginia "insurgent" council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics has been called to meet in Richmond this week to determine the necessary action looking to the suppression of all junior lodges in Virginia which refused to renounce allegiance to the national council and come under the jurisdiction of the State Council, which won a decision in the court last week.

It is held that under the decision given in the Richmond courts the "insurgents" operating under the Virginia State chapter have complete jurisdiction, and that the national council cannot continue in this State, and that neither the name nor objects of the order can be used except under the jurisdiction of the "insurgents" State body.

Weddings.

Miss Janet Brown Fawcett, daughter of Mrs. Edward Stabler Fawcett, and Mr. Lewis Cheeseman, formerly of this city, but now of Scranton, Pa., were married in St. Paul's Church last night at 8:30. At the appointed hour the vested choir of forty voices entered the church door singing the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." Immediately following them came the ushers, Mr. Henry Buckley Rodman, of New York; Mr. John Douglass Brown, of Philadelphia; Mr. [illegible] Malcolm Westcott Hill, Harry Beverley Leadbeater and Edward Stabler Fawcett, brother of the bride. Following the [illegible]maids, Miss Susan [illegible]iss Ellen Douglass [illegible]he bride, gowned in white [illegible]niture of lace and pearls. Mrs. Malcolm Westcott Hill was prevented by illness from being dame of honor. Her place was taken by Mrs. Richard Gibson. Mrs. Gibson wore her own wedding gown of white radium silk and like the bridesmaids carried yellow chrysanthemums tied with yellow ribbon. The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. Wallace Hooff, by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown was of white chiffon taffeta, made empire, with yoke and collar of duchesse lace; with it was worn a necklace of pearls and a tulle veil fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her flowers were bride roses and maiden hair ferns. Mr. Cheeseman and his best man, Mr. Wallace Hooff Fawcett, of Schenectady, N. Y., a brother of the bride, met the bride at the chancel steps where the betrothal service was read by the Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of the church. The chancel was beautifully but very simply decorated with white chrysanthemums and palms. At the end of the betrothal service, as the bridal party advanced to the altar rail, the choir sang the wedding hymn, "O, Perfect Love." The marriage service was read by the Rev. Douglass Hooff, of Baltimore, uncle of the bride. The bride and groom led the way from the altar to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Mr. Sherman B. Fowler presided at the organ. Mrs. Fawcett, mother of the bride, wore a beautiful gown of black silk crepe, over taffeta, trimmed with black embroidered net. A small reception was held at the home of the bride, on Prince street, which was attended only by the immediate family and bridal party. Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Watkins and Miss Catharine Watkins, of Washington; Mrs. Benjamin L. Wallace, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., Mrs. Elizabeth Robbins and Mrs. Douglass Hooff, of Baltimore.

The wedding of Miss Rose Emma Appich, second daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Appich, and Mr. Wm. MacArthur Green, of the Alexandria National Bank, took place last night at eight o'clock at Emanuel Lutheran church, Rev. J. J. May officiating. The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. William Steuernagel, of Lynchburg, who gave her in marriage. She was attended by her sister, Miss Charlotte Appich, who acted as maid of honor, and Mr. W. P. Taylor was best man. The music was by Professor Hart, of Washington. The church was decorated with palms, white chrysanthemums and Southern smilax. The bride's gown was white messaline over white taffeta, of princess design, trimmed with baby Irish and Duchess lace. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white chiffon over pink taffeta. The bridesmaids were Misses Rose Brett, of Washington, and Ruth Appich and Bessie E. Green, of this city. Their gowns were pink chiffon cloth over pink taffeta. The ushers were E. W. Briggs, of Washington, and R. F. Green and George P. Aitcheson, of this city. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother on King street which was attended by the bridal party and out-of-town guests, after which the couple left for a northern tour. On their return they will live in this city.

Most quietly at highnoon Wednesday, November the twenty-first, the distinguished name of Armistead was allied to that of the Italian, de' Nesti. Agnes Campbell Gordon, daughter of the late James Ryan Armistead, and great-granddaughter of Colonel George Armistead was married at "Bird Lawn," the country residence of her grandfather, Henry Buchanan Bird, to Adolfo Napoleone Francesco de' Nesti, the Italian sculptor, of the noble house of de' Nesti, of Florence, Italy.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederic Orosz, of Edinburgh, Scotland, a special friend of the family, now visiting in this country. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. de' Nesti left for a trip. Upon their return the young couple will reside in Washington, Mr. d' Nesti being engaged upon a number of magnificent statues to adorn the new municipal building.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boyer, No. 221 I street, northwest Washington, was the scene of a pretty wedding on the evening of November 20, when Miss Osceola Stonnell and Mr. Robert Grierson Rind were married by Rev. W. H. Ballingee, pastor of Calvary Methodist Church South, Georgetown, assisted by Rev. Chas. Lynch, pastor of the Methodist Church of Occoquan district, Prince William county, Virginia. A large company of friends and relatives of the couple were present from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood B. Stonnell, of Woodbridge, Prince William county, Virginia, which also is the native county of the bridegroom, but who is now a well-known resident of Bowie, Maryland. The parlors were profusely decorated with growing plants, palms, ferns and flowers. The bride came in the drawingroom with her father. She was gowned in point d'esprit with French valenciennes and Venice applique, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her sister, Miss Virginia Stonnell, attended her as maid of honor. She wore organdy trimmed with Mecklin lace and carried pink chrysanthemums. Miss Marian Lohr was the flower girl, dressed in Swiss mull and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Edwin L. Cockrell, of Washington, uncle of the bride, was best man. Mrs. A. A. Lohr played and the Misses Vierkorn, of Alexandria, sang, in sweet strains, the wedding march from "Lohengrin." After the ceremony an informal reception followed with refreshments and general merrymaking amid expressions of good wishes for the happy couple. They were the recepients of many valuable and handsome presents. At 10 p. m. they left to spend their honeymoon in the South. After their return, about December 1, they will be at home to their friends at 221 I street, northwest, Washington, for a few weeks, after which they will reside permanently at Riverdale, Maryland.

Educational Meeting.

The meeting last night in the Opera House in the interests of education was attended by a comparatively small, but appreciative audience. In the assemblage were city officials, members of the City School Board, public school teachers, scholars and others. A number of pupils of the public schools were also present.

In addition to the speakers there were on the platform Capt. Herbert Bryant, chairman of the school board; M. D. Hall, superintendent of schools of Fairfax county, and James E. Clements, superintendent of schools of Alexandria county.

Mr. K. Kemper, Superintendent of Public Schools, presided, and shortly after 8 o'clock introduced Mr. James R. Caton, Delegate to the Legislature from this city and county, who in a brief address gave a rapid history of educational work in the State since the days of Thomas Jefferson, as well as the interest shown in the same from time to time by the Legislature of Virginia. He dwelt at some length upon the salaries of public educators and announced that he was heartily in favor of the State paying teachers such salary as he thought they deserved for their labors.

Mr. Caton was followed by Mr. Lewis H. Machen, State Senator from this district, who followed in the same lines. He also gave a succinct history of the legislation which has been enacted in the cause of education, as well as certain contemplated measures for the betterment of the public schools of the State.

Mr. Charles P. Maphis, a member of the State Board of Examiners for this, the Fifteenth, district, was the next speaker. His remarks in the main were in reference to the high schools of the State and their importance as filling in the gaps between the ordinary public schools and the University of Virginia.

Dr. Bruce R. Payne, of the University of Virginia, was subsequently introduced by Mr. Kemper. He made a few felicitous remarks at the outset, but soon began to speak in earnest on high schools which has for some time engrossed his interest. He vividly portrayed their utility and urged their adoption in Alexandria.

The suggestions of the speakers were received with every token of appreciation. During the evening there was vocal and instrumental music, under the supervision of Mr. Geo. B. Kennedy, with Saunders & Stayman, of Washington. Miss Hughes, of Washington, rendered a solo which was greatly enjoyed, while the performance upon a fine Weber piano by Mr. W. Gray Hawley, and that of Mr. Stanton, violinist, were commendable.

Tuesday Night's Accident.

The accident near Freestone, on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, Tuesday night was more serious than at first reported. Two men were killed. Northern mails were delayed three hours and ten minutes and Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac trains were diverted by way of the Chesapeake and Ohio as far south as Doswell as a result of the wreck.

General Superintendent C. W. Culp yesterday afternoon gave out the following statement regarding the accident:

"The accident occurred on the Washington-Southern Railway about 9 p. m., Tuesday night. The double track on the Washington-Southern is not yet completed, and a piece of track between Cherry Hill and Marumsco is operated as single track. The operator at the south end of the piece of single track failed to comform to instructions issued to him in regard to holding a northward freight train, which resulted in a collission between two freight trains, causing considerable damage and the death of Brakeman J. W. Taylor and an unidentified man supposed to be a tramp. Employes E. W. Curtis, E. W. Bland and W. E. Thompson were slightly injured. Passenger trains were somewhat delayed in consequence of being run via the Chesapeake and Ohio and Southern Railway between Doswell and Alexandria.

The engine of the southbound freight had been in a wreck early Tuesday morning when it had made its northern trip to Washington, and the wrecking train had been ordered to do repair work incident thereto. Just beyond Freestone bridge is a piece of single track for a short distance, over which all trains are compelled to run because of the unfinished double track at that point.

The wrecking train was proceeding north on this track and had just crossed the bridge when the heavy southbound freight was met head-on. The two engines plunged into each other, and stood locked at an angle of forty-five degrees. In the caboose was Brakeman Taylor. This caboose, strange to say, was next to the engine instead of at the rear of the train. Mr. Taylor was caught between the caboose and engine and crushed to death. The caboose looked like a pile of kindling wood. The unknown tramp who was killed had both his legs cut off.

Donations.

The following is a list of those who made donations to the euchre party given by the Council of Jewish Women at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall Tuesday night: Messrs. Fannon, wood; Lowenbach, wines; Desmond, wine; Shuman, cake; Bloch, cream and cake; Knight, plates; Downham, wine, and Steiner, pipes, and Mrs. Ale, chocolate set.

River Notes.

A diver was at work on the ferry steamer Callahan at the foot of Prince street this morning. As has been stated, the rudder of the steamer became misplaced shortly after noon on Tuesday and it was necessary to withdraw her from the route until repairs shall have been made. The steamer Woodbury is still running on the ferry route.

The steamer Anne Arundel, which left her wharf at the foot of Cameron street for Baltimore Tuesday night and ran aground at the White House, was pulled into deep water by a government tugboat last night and she afterwards proceeded down the river.

The four-masted schooner Henry F. Kreger, from Port Tampa, Fla., with phosphate rock for the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, has arrived.

Pleasant Entertainment.

The Lyceum Dramatic Club was very pleasantly entertained by the Y. M. S. L. in their hall on Duke street last night. Solos were rendered by Mrs. A. D. Montier and Miss Mary Nugent and Messrs. Forrest Birrell, Martin Greene and John Lucas. Miss Catherine Birrell gave a very beautiful recitation. Addresses were made by several members of the Y. M. S. L. Mr. A. D. Montier, who is a director of the dramatic club, spoke of the highly successful efforts of the club in the past and hoped for a continuance of the same in the future. Mr. W. H. Broughton, the caterer, served many good things tempting to the inner man. At a late hour the company separated and repaired to their homes well pleased with the evening spent with the Y. M. S. L.

A Correction.

It was stated in the Police Court proceedings yesterday that James Harrington had been arrested charged with larceny and that his case had been postponed. James Herndon is the name of the young man referred to, and it appears that he was arrested for disorderly conduct and that later an agent for miniature pictures urged a charge of larceny against him, alleging that a picture left in his possession for a lady had not been received by the latter. His friends claim that he is innocent of the charge. Herndon is from Charlottesville and during the past few years has been working at painting in this city. He has heretofore borne a good reputation.

Street Improvements.

The improvements at the foot of Prince street are nearing completion. A substantial cobblestone roadway will soon occupy the space between Union street and the river. Mr. A. D. Brockett, who has recently erected a brick building on the south side of the street, is having granolithic pavements laid in front of all the buildings occupied by him.

The square on Fairfax street, between King and Cameron, is now being paved with vitrified brick. After this work shall have been completed granolithic pavements will be laid on the east side of the square from Fayette alley to Cameron street.

Strike Inevitable.

A general building strike in Washington Monday is now regarded as certain. Although the Master Builders' Association has consented to a conference with the committee of the Allied Trades Unions, to take place Friday night, little hope is expressed that any agreement will be reached, because it is the consensus of opinion of the master builders that the question of the open shop, which the committee is insisting shall be left out of the list of matters to be arbitrated, is the most important of all, and they are determined that it shall be submitted.

Official Visitation.

A called meeting of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows will be held on next Saturday night to receive Roland E. Chase, Grand Master of the State of Virginia. Sarepta Lodge and all members of the organization in this city are expected to be present on the occasion.

JEWELRY.

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

DO YOU OWN A HORSE?

Electric Light Plants Are Like Horses In Some Respects.

The subject of depreciation is well worthy of the careful consideration of those who are prone to ignore that item in estimating the cost of lights supplied by municipal plants. But as more people own horses than lighting plants it may be helpful to consider depreciation as applied to horses.

You pay $250 for a five-year-old horse. That's original cost. If you borrow the money you must pay interest on it. If you don't borrow it you lose the interest you would get if you didn't buy the horse. Either way it's interest. You feed the horse, and perhaps hire a man to take care of him. That's operating expenses. You get him shod occasionally and call in the veterinarian when he is sick. That's renewals and repairs. After a few years, in spite of the best of care, the horse is no longer capable of doing the required work and is sold for $50, a loss of $200 as compared with the original cost. That's depreciation. If you haven't laid that by year by year out of the horse's earnings, you've got to borrow it to buy a new horse, and you may not find it easy to do so if you haven't repaid the original loan. That's what happens to municipal plants that don't provide an adequate depreciation fund.

Making Peter Pay For Paul.

Whether a public utility be administered by the government itself or by a private corporation, we hold that every person who uses it should be held to pay the cost of the service which he receives and that no man should be compelled by taxation or otherwise to bear any part of his neighbor's expenses for light and power, for telephone service or for transportation of himself or of his goods.

Every proposal that a municipality assume operation of all public utilities and reduce rates to persons using them, regardless of what the service may actually cost, is an attempt to force some men to bear the expenses of others, because where the outlay for operation exceeds earnings the deficit must be made up by taxation, and this we denounce as socialistic and therefore hostile to justice and subversive of democratic government.—Bourke Cockran.
